NNIT appointed Microsoft Cloud Solution Provider

NNIT has been awarded Microsoft Cloud Solution Provider status as one of very few IT service providers in Denmark

NNIT, a leading provider of IT services and consultancy today announced the awarding of the Microsoft Cloud Solution Provider status. NNIT becomes a Tier-1 partner, which allows the company to directly manage its customers' Microsoft Cloud lifecycle.

Cloud Solution Provider (CSP) is a new Microsoft offering that enables authorized partners to package Microsoft Cloud along with their own services. For NNIT clients this means that they can enjoy a more complete cloud solution that is safe, flexible and ready to use.

Christoffer Mors, cloud specialist and sales executive at NNIT comments: "Clients are increasingly looking for flexible solutions that can support their business requirements in a cost-efficient way. NNIT is a full-service IT provider that is able to build, move and maintain our clients' cloud solutions. Handling the entire value stream, NNIT will enable clients to meet future demands, while protecting their data in a secure environment."

The CSP status further extends NNIT's investment in cloud. Earlier this month NNIT announced the launch of the NNIT Enterprise Hybrid Cloud, which integrates the public cloud with the customer's private IT environments. Hybrid clouds are especially attractive to organizations that want to explore the flexibility and scalability of the public cloud, while keeping the ability to maintain in-house capacity for mission-critical applications.

Senior Vice President of Client Management at NNIT, Michael Bjerregaard, adds: "NNIT is always seeking ways to support our clients in managing the many requirements and obligations of today's business. The CSP status is a noteworthy extension of our offerings and a testament to the quality of our deliveries."
